COUNCIL OFFICIALLY ASKS FOR PENALTY REDUCTION

Will Seek to Get Fifteen Cents on $100 Taken of Present Rate

MUCH BUSINESS IS DONE

Important Matters are Attended to by the City Fathers

Communications to the Underwriters' Association prepared by Councilman Frye of a special committee in charge of the matter were read at the adjourned session of council last night. One of the letters was to Edward B. Greighton informing him that under the present condition the borough council thought that there should be a reduction of the penalty now imposed on Charleroi people of 15 cents on $100 and enumerating the various things under which this claim could be made. The other letter was to a Pittsburg official of the Association, seeking his assistance in securing the reduction of the penalty rates, and an appeal that the Monongahela Board take the matter up. The first thing to be done was to get the signatures of the property owners of the street, which it is proposed to grade between Second and Third streets, for a release of damages. The report was accepted, and a committee was authorized to make specifications of the work prepared. Mr. Frew recommended that something be done on Third street between Lincoln and Lockout avenue to get it in better condition. The matter was placed in the hands of the street committee to confer with the property owners concerning their willingness to help.

Chairman Schmeiler of the garbage committee reported that Samuel Nutting, to whom the garbage franchise was awarded, wanted his bond reduced from $2,500 to $1,500. After some discussion the requirement was reduced as desired. It was decided by the wish of two members of the garbage committee that the garbage furnace be visited at least once a month by them to see that things are kept in good shape.

RIVALRY BETWEEN TOWNS INTENSE

Marathon to be Run Soon is Awakening Considerable Interest.

The committee in charge of the Marathon is busy making arrangements for the event, and it promises to even eclipse the one run a few days ago. A number of runners who participated in the last one promise to enter in this, among whom is Harry Powell, the Charleroi boy who finished second.

The rivalry between the towns is intense, and each has its favorites to support. Further announcements of the coming race will be made from day to day.

Child Narrowly Escapes Drowning

Falls Into Place Where Water Company Had Dug Deep Hole on Sixth Street.

A child about 4 years old had a narrow escape from drowning on Sunday evening at the corner of Sixth street and Washington avenue where a place had been opened up by the water company, and the hole had become filled with water. The child, whose name could not be learned, was playing about the street at about 8 o'clock with others, when it slipped and fell into the water. A man who was nearby saw the accident and hastened to the spot and rescued the child. When taken from the water the little girl was gasping, and would have in a few seconds more been beyond all help. The child was carried to the home of Dr. J. B. Barth, where it was revived and later removed to the home of its parents.

COURSE TO BE CHOSEN

Committee States that This Year's Entertainments will be Among the Best.

MEETING LAST NIGHT

The guarantors of the Charleroi Entertainment course met last evening in the parlors of the First Christians church to elect officers and arrange for securing a course and dates for next season. The following were elected as officers: Rev. G. Kerr, president; Fred Clertue, secretary; S. K. Scott, treasurer.

A committee was appointed consisting of R. J. Huston, Dr. J. W. Manon and R. Dale Jolliffe, with the president and secretary as ex-officio members to select the course for 1909 and secure dates.

As this is to be the citizens' course this year there are 50 guarantors. The interest will be considerable stimulated when it is known that the course is to be among the very best that can be selected.

HIGH OFFICIALS HERE

Adams Express Officials Stop For a Moment at The Local Office.

High Officials of the Adams Express Company spent a few moments in Charleroi this morning. Those who were here were Superintendent J. A. Murphy, Manager H. Haft, W. B. Kale, route agent, and M. B. Slater, the Pittsburg general agent. The company arrived and departed on the 10:18 train, although they had intended to remain over until a later train.

Notice, Moose.

Regular meeting of Monessen Lodge No. 80 L. O. O. Moose, Tuesday evening, May 11, in opera house hall. A large attendance is desired as the social rooms in Trust building, corner Fifth and Donner avenue, will be open to members immediately after meeting.

GRAFTON NOT IN IT

Charleroi in First Home Game Kerwallops West Virginians

LOCALS LANDED HARD

When Conaway hit for three bases in the fourth inning yesterday he won the opening game of the base ball season in Charleroi. Nicely, who scored, had reached second by driving one out for two sacks. MacHale's youngsters were not satisfied with the lone tally however, and proceeded to drive the pill to all corners of the lot, and when the totaling time came up fourteen hits for twenty bases and eight runs was the result.

Griffith was sent out by MacHale and instructed to land a victory. He followed orders, and with the exception of one or two occasions the visitors never had a chance to see the home plate. Things looked pretty bad in the second when Raley, who is noted for hitting, drove one to the fence for two sacks but died on the cushion as the three following men went out in rotation. In the fifth with two down Bailes was safe on a hard drive to Nicely which was booted. Rothermel sent him around to third with a terrific slash for two sacks. Warren popped one to Morgan which ended the inning. With three on and one down in the sixth it took some good work to hold the West Virginians safe, but by causing Sloan to shoot one in the air to Harrell and fanning Haught, Griffith pulled himself out of the worst hole of the game. After scoring their first run things

DOGS MUST BE MUZZLED

Fifteen Days Given as Time Limit to Owners of Canines.

TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE

"Muzzle the dogs", was the cry of council at their meeting last night. Taking action partly from the knowledge of the danger of an epidemic of hydrophobia, following the travel of a dog through the streets the other day, nipping other canines, an ordinance was rushed through all readings, after having been presented by Councilman W. H. Calvert. It is to the effect that all the canine inhabitants be muzzled within the next fifteen days, or the dogs shall be taken by the police, to be held for 48 hours, after which they may be killed, and the carcass cremated.

The ordinance provides that after dogs have been taken by the police they must be redeemed within the period of 48 hours, upon the payment of 50 cents. Any officer or citizen is empowered to "arrest" the canines, with the reward of the 50 cents to be paid them. The ordinance is in effect now, and it is stated that the hardware dealers have each ordered a supply of muzzles. The ordinance will be rigidly enforced by the police.

The Imperial Bottle factory after having been shut down in part for the past four weeks, has again resumed in full. The night employees are all ordered back to work tonight. Nine shops were out of operation during the shut down.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR CHILDREN'S PICNIC

Calvert Went Home To Muzzle His Dog

Got Excused From Council with the Aforesaid Avowed Purpose—Frew's Grouch.

The dog ordinance will meet with the approbation of the most of the citizens of Charleroi, as well as the members of the council, some of whom have dogs themselves. Councilman Calvert, who presented the ordinance created some surprise when immediately upon the passage of the statute he asked to be excused from the remainder of the meeting. Members looked askance at one another, but Mr. Calvert grabbed his hat and started out, with the remark that he "was going home to muzzle his dog." Needless to say he was excused.

Councilman Frew was in favor of making the time limit for the muzzling of the animals one day. In support of his argument, he remarked that he had sort of a grouch at the canine population anyhow—they had awakened him at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and he hadn't been able to sleep since.

CHARLEROI MEN HELD

Junk Dealers Said to be From This Place, Charged With Larceny of Hose.

ARRESTED YESTERDAY

Harry Eask and Am. Freeman, who claim to live in Charleroi, were arrested at Fayette City yesterday charged with the larceny of a quantity of gum hose from the brick yard of Dinsmore Bros. at East Charleroi. Eask drove a horse hired from Raley's livery stable with a wagon belonging to another man and claimed to be a junk dealer. The hose was taken last Saturday, but the arrest was not made until yesterday.

The two men were taken before Squire Hamilton, where Freeman stated he was only riding with Eask when arrested, and he was released. Eask was held under bond for his appearance at court, and at this writing had not been able to secure bail. The hose was valued at $40.

The meeting last evening was presided over by W. C. Clark and the secretary was Prof. W. D. Wright. It is planned to make the picnic this year if possible to surpass any that has ever been held. No donations will be asked from the citizens, as enough funds are on hand for the purpose.

BRIGADE AT FAYETTE CITY

Local Command to go Up River Town Tonight to Take Part in Exercises.

The Boys' Brigade under Captain Jolliffe will go to Fayette City this evening to participate in a rally that is being held for an organization at that place, which was recently formed. They will be met by a band and conducted over the town, and later will be taken to the Y. M. C. A. rooms where a banquet will be served.

New Parole System.

One of the best and most practical laws for dealing with offenders against the laws of the State was passed by the last Legislature and signed by Governor Stuart yesterday. This is a system of parole and probation of prisoners. It provides that the county courts may have the power to suspend sentence and place on probation persons convicted of offenses other than those of a grave nature. In case of a fine the court may provide for its payment on installments by the person on probation. The measure was introduced by Senator E. L. Tustin of Philadelphia, and is known as the Tustin act.

When a prisoner is released on probation, he is under the supervision of a probation officer appointed by the court. The terms of probation are within a minimum and maximum sentence, and where the law fixes no minimum it shall be not less than one-fourth of the maximum. In sentencing prisoners to the penitentiary the court may impose a minimum and a one that appeals most strongly to the human emotions. From the time of the Compravichos of the seventeenth century, so vividly described in Victor Hugo's "By Order of the King," crimes against children have been regarded as a most heinous offense. The sentence is a righteous one, and it meets with general approval.

One feature of the trial that is to be felicitated, is that there was no mawkish sympathy displayed for the criminals, as is often the case in sensational trials. A murder or a highwayman is often regarded as a hero, for the element of daring exhibited in committing the crime. Not so with the kidnaper. He is sneaky thief of the lowest type, and his deed is most cowardly and inhuman. The swift hand of justice that fell in the Whitlaw case will not be an encouragement for a repetition of the crime in Western Pennsylvania at least.

In a Different Light.

As a driver of men for those whose sole object is the pursuit of the almighty dollar, Supt. W. A. Cornelies of the big National Tube works at McKeesport found it necessary to run the plant Sundays; but as a member of the church of Divine love and humanity he does not find the necessity so pressing. From the worship of Mammon to the worship of God he sees things in a different light. As a result of this vision 1,200 employees for the first time in the history of the plant spent Sunday as a day of worship and rest with their families.

Supt. Cornelies' action is evidence that it is more avarice than necessity that prompts big industrial concerns to run their plants continuously. There is seldom any real necessity for it, and the killing pace of the present era is but artificial for the most part. It is not the important end of life to accumulate wealth nor to grind the faces of the needy in the process. The closing of the big McKeesport plant Sundays is significant—not so much for the individual effect it has as for the evidence that the gospel of human love is spreading. This is but another instance of the great wave of righteousness that is sweeping the country from one ocean to the other.

Muzzle the Dogs.

Council acted wisely in enacting an ordinance requiring all dogs in the borough to be muzzled. By so doing every inhabitant of the borough is protected from the danger of hydrophobia that is a constant menace, particularly in hot weather. Only last week a strange dog ran amuck in the streets snapping and biting all the canines with which it came in contact. The dog was killed but if it was affected with hydrophobia, it most certainly infected others, which would be a terrible menace to the community.

It was this that prompted council to take summary action. The dog may or may not have been mad, but it is not safe to take chances. By muzzling all the dogs now future accidents will be prevented.

COUNCIL OFFICIAL ASKS

FOR PENALTY REDUCTION

The fire company presented a bill for expenses amounting to $17. This was ordered paid. The company also presented a budget of their expenses, and requested that an appropriation of $100 yearly be made. The finance committee was given charge of the matter. A bill of W. B. Pilegharist for $142.38, for furnishings for the firemen's room was ordered paid. Chairman Frye of the ordinance committee reported that he had seen Solicitor D. M. McCloskey concerning the cost of the revising of the borough ordinances, and stated that he had said it would require an expenditure of between $500 and $700. The matter was held over for the present, and the ordinance committee instructed to continue their work along the matter, and if possible see if a revision could not be made at a cheaper rate.

The accounts and claims committee presented a written report concerning the claim of damages of Mrs. Harvey Osborne. In this it was stated that all the damage which had been caused by the borough's fill near the property in question could be remedied by an expenditure of $25. This report was accepted, and the amount will be paid Mrs. Osborne.

The clerk reported that he had made an inspection of the fire plugs and found nearly a dozen in bad shape. He was instructed to make a request to the Water company to fix them.

A grade ordinance for sidewalks for the west side of Lincoln avenue passed second reading. It was reported that on account of a pole of the Pittsburgh Railways company holding the high tension wire on Lincoln avenue, bordering on her property, Mrs. Elizabeth McDonough had refused to lay her sidewalk. The company will be given 15 days' notice to move the pole, under the directions of the street committee.

Following the transaction of the business on the table, council adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, Etc.,

Used as a Simple Wash

It really seems strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema, when it is now no longer a secret that oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol, glycerine, etc., makes a wash that is bound to cure.

Old, obstinate cases, it is true, cannot be cured in a few days, but there is absolutely no sufferer from eczema who ever used this simple wash and did not find immediately that wonderfully soothing, calm, cool sensation that comes when the itch is taken away.

Instantly upon applying a few drops of the wash the remedy takes effect, the itch is allayed. There is no need of experiment—the patient knows at once.

Instead of trying to compound the oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., in the right proportions ourselves we are using a prescription which is universally found the most effective.

It is known as the D. D. D. Prescription, or Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

It is made by the D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, and our long experience with this remedy has given us great confidence in its merits.

FEEBLE OLD LADY

Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably resulted in my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

LINCOLN'S STORY

It Contains a Lesson For the Man With a Grievance.

An old farmer once called at the White House and complained that the Union soldiers in passing his farm had helped themselves not only to hay, but to his horse, and he hoped the president would urge the proper officer to consider his claim immediately.

"Why, my dear sir," replied Mr. Lincoln blandly, "I couldn't think of such a thing. If I consider individual cases I should find work enough for twenty presidents."

The caller urged his needs persistently, and Mr. Lincoln declined good naturedly.

"But," said the persevering sufferer, "couldn't you just give me a line to Colonel—about it—just one line?"

"Ha, ha, ha!" responded the president, crossing his legs. "That reminds me of old Jack Chase out in Illinois."

"You see, Jack—I knew him like a brother—used to be a lumberman on the Illinois river, and he was steady and sober and the best craftsman on the stream. It was quite a trick to take the logs over the rapids, but he was skillful with a raft and always kept her straight in the channel. Finally a steamer was put on, and Jack—he's dead now, poor fellow—was made captain of it. He always used to take the wheel going through the rapids. One day when the boat was plunging and wallowing along the boiling current and Jack's utmost vigilance was being exercised to keep it in the narrow channel a boy pulled his coat off and hailed him with:

"Say, Mr. Captain, I wish you would just stop your boat a minute! I've lost my apple overboard!"

"Think that story over, my friend, and see if you can find any lesson in it."

First Aid.

"If you were called upon to deal with a hysterical person," asked the examiner at the emergency class, "what would you do?"

"I'd amputate his funny bone," said the student with a turn for surgery and humor.—Youth's Companion.

Gift For Those Going Abroad.

A pretty and convenient little gift to make for the friend who is going abroad is in the form of a linen envelope about an inch longer and wider than the picture postcards which are so popular.

Green or blue linen may be used and the words "Postal Cards" embroidered in the outline stitch on the front of the envelope. You can embroider your friend's initials on the flap, which fastens with a button and loop.

The envelope is bound with white ribbon and makes a dainty case for the foreign postal cards.

How Hunters Dress Where There Is No Dawn and No Dusk.

We wore khaki for daytime and warm clothes for night when sitting around the camp, as after the sun goes down a great chill immediately settles down that makes winter clothing and a good big fire most essential.

During the daytime we always wore pith helmets, although sometimes early in the morning and late in the afternoon, when the sun is not at its maximum, a double terti felt hat may be substituted. It is far more comfortable than the helmet.

As additional protection we wore sun pads, which covered the spine. These are merely heavy quilted strips that reach from the collar to below the shoulders, as we were advised that the effect of the sun was just as deadly at this point as on the head. I do not know what maximum the thermometer would reach in the sun, as I was afraid to leave it exposed when it got higher than a little above 150 degrees, as beyond that point there was great danger of breaking it. In the shade the temperature would be usually from 85 to 100 degrees, but there was always a breeze blowing, and the dryness of the air cooled one off quite rapidly as soon as one got out of the sun. It was always cold in the morning when we started out at the first peep of light, and we were usually shivering for a few minutes prior to the sun's appearance. Day does not dawn in equatorial Africa, but it bursts! It is dark one minute and full sunlight the next, and the reverse occurs in the evening, for the sun goes down and night comes on as if a curtain had suddenly been drawn down over the west, and the chill of night begins instantly.—Percy C. Madeira in Metropolitan Magazine.

"A Sound Box."

Take an ordinary rubber band and stretch it between the thumb and forefinger of your left hand. If you pick it with the fingers of the right hand and let go suddenly it will "make a sound" which you can hear distinctly enough yourself, but which will not be audible to any one a few feet away. But if you were to fasten the elastic, with a pin at each end, to an empty wooden box, only not so as to touch the wood, and then twang it the sound would be much louder than before. That box is the sound box or sound board, and all stringed instruments have one in some shape or other.—St. Nicholas.

There Was Something Coming to Him, and He Got It.

"Gentlemen," said the drummer of druggists' sundries as he looked around on the half dozen men who were asking him for the latest story, "I believe I have felt about 400 different feelings in my life, and the balmiest one of all was the feeling that I had something coming to me and would get it if I stayed on the road long enough."

"And have you got it?" was asked.

"I have. I got it coming into Chicago. I was very comfortable in my Pullman when a young man came along and told me a pitiful story and wanted me to buy his diamond ring. The game is older than the hills, and I was on in a minute—bought story and bogus diamond; willing to sell me a $200 ring for $50. I asked him where the green spot was in my eye, and while I was planning myself the man in the other part of the section pulled out three tens and pocketed the ring. Did I look down upon him with pity and contempt? Did I smile? Did I grin? Did I ask him where his guardian was? Oh, yes—oh, yes, and he spoke up and claimed that the stones were diamonds and the ring well worth 200 plunks. It settled me to see the ass so cocksure and to hear him say that of course I was no judge of diamonds, and I put up $50 that he'd been done for. The conductor held the money, and when we got into town we made for a jewelry store. We took in four of 'em before I laid down. Same story in each place—ring worth $200."

"And you lost your $50?"

"Stick as slick."

"And there was a game in it?"

"Of course, you camel. Seller and buyer were confederates, and they probably worked the scheme six days a week. If I'd got ready to buy, some excuse would have been made to bend me off. Yes, gentlemen, I had something coming to me, and I got it, and I feel relieved."—Baltimore American.

were pretty easy for the locals and one or more were added in each inning.

The fifth was the worst, as eight men faced Hought, four of them crossing. Urban looked them over for free transportation and Griffith sacrificed. Morgan singled and Urban took third, scoring on an error by Warner. Harrell followed with a single scoring Morgan and Nally walked, both moving upon a sacrifice by Elliott. Two runs came over when Nicely picked off his third hit of the afternoon.

Two singles and an infield out were responsible for a mark in the sixth and a tripple by Elliott and a single by Nicely counted runs in seventh and the eighth run came on a double by Brockman and single by Urban.

Manager MacHale and Umpire Schmink had a little run-in over a decision at second and as a result MacHale was banished from the grounds. Score:

Conway injured his ankle, in yesterday's game and was sent to Youngstown today to see Bonsetter Reese. Ross Raley will be behind the bat.

MacHale has 14 men on the list and today's game will see some new faces in the lineup as he wishes to give all a fair trial before handing out any releases.

Plans Big Parade.

The committee in charge of the union evangelistic meetings at Monongahela is planning for a big parade there Thursday evening. It is the intention to make it one of the biggest religious demonstrations ever held in the town. The meetings under the direction of the evangelists, Messrs. Davis and Mills, have been eminently successful, and the religious awakening in that community was never so great.

Republican Candidate for Recorder Makes Vigorous Campaign in River District.

Alex D. Young, candidate for the Republican nomination for recorder of Washington county, was in town today, making a canvass among the voters of this section. Mr. Young, who has been deputy recorder through several administrations, bases his claim for the nomination on his qualifications and capability to fill the office. His long service has made him widely known throughout the county and his uniform courteous treatment of the patrons of the office has won him many friends in all parts of the county.

While he has never been identified with fractional politics Mr. Young has always been a regular Republican and a strict adherent of the party. His party regularity, his faithfulness as an official, and his record as deputy recorder are factors which are recognized by the voters.

No Other Candidate for Recorder So Well Equipped as Alex. D. Young

ALEX. D. YOUNG

Alex. D. Young, candidate for the Republican nomination for Recorder of Washington county, is too well known to need formal introduction. His long service in the Recorder's office as deputy has brought him into close touch with the public and the uniformly courteous treatment accorded patrons of the office during his term of service has made him many substantial friends who are eager to rally to his support in the contest to be settled at the June primaries.

In point of qualifications no other candidate is so well equipped. Not another man in Washington county so well understands how to conduct the business of the office and there is no more deserving candidate. While at no time in his career has Mr. Young been identified with factional politics, he has at all times since attaining his majority been a strict adherent to the principles of the party of his choice.

On his record as deputy recorder, established by many years of faithful service and on his record for party regularity Mr. Young solicits the support of Washington county Republicans.

COUNCIL OFFICIALLY ASKS FOR PENALTY REDUCTION

Will Seek to Get Fifteen Cents on $100 Taken of Present Rate

MUCH BUSINESS IS DONE

Important Matters are Attended to by the City Fathers

Communications to the Underwriters Association prepared by Councilman Frye of a special committee in charge of the matter were read at the adjourned session of council last night. One of the letters was to Edward B. Creighton informing him that under the present condition the borough council thought that there should be a reduction of the penalty now imposed on Charleroi people of 15 cents on $100 and enumerating the various things under which this claim could be made. The other letter was to a Pittsburgh official of the Association, seeking his assistance in securing the reduction of the penalty rates, and also an appeal that the Monongahela Board take the matter up. The last night was attended by Councilman Frew, who presented the report of the street committee, by Chairman Frew. He stated that he had the signatures of the majority of the property owners on the petition, which it is proposed to place between Second and Third streets, for a release of demolition. The report was accepted, and the street committee was authorized to prepare the specifications of the work. Mr. Frew recommended that something be done on Third street between Lincoln and Locust avenue to get it in better condition. The matter was placed in the hands of the street committee to confer with the property owners concerning their willingness to help.

Chairman Schmeidler of the garbage committee reported that Samuel Nutting, to whom the garbage franchise was awarded, wanted his bond reduced from $2,500 to $1,500. After some discussion the requirement was reduced as desired. It was decided by the wish of two members of the garbage committee that the garbage furnace be visited at least once a month by them to see that things are kept in good shape.

RIVALRY BETWEEN TOWNS INTENSE

Marathon to be Run Soon is Awakening Considerable Interest

The committee in charge of the Marathon is busy making arrangements for the event, and it promises to even eclipse the one run a few days ago. A number of runners who participated in the last one promise to enter in this, among whom is Harry Powell, the Charleroi boy who finished second.

The rivalry between the towns is intense, and each has its favorites to support. Further announcements of the coming race will be made from day to day.

Child Narrowly Escapes Drowning

Falls Into Place Where Water Company Had Dug Deep Hole on Sixth Street.

A child about 4 years old had a narrow escape from drowning on Sunday evening at the corner of Sixth street and Washington avenue where a place had been opened up by the water company, and the hole had become filled with water. The child, whose name could not be learned, was playing about the street at about 8 o'clock with others, when it slipped and fell into the water. A man who was nearby saw the accident and hastened to the spot and rescued the child. When taken from the water the little girl was gasping, and would have in a few seconds more been beyond all help. The child was carried to the home of Dr. J. B. Barth, where it was revived and later removed to the home of its parents.

Committee States that This Year's Entertainments will be Among the Best.

MEETING LAST NIGHT

The guarantors of the Charleroi Entertainment course met last evening in the parlors of the First Christians church to elect officers and arrange for securing a course and dates for next season. The following were elected as officers: Rev. G. Kerr, president; Fred Clerihue, secretary; S. K. Scott, treasurer. A committee was appointed consisting of R. J. Huston, Dr. J. W. Manon and R. Dale Jolliffe, with the president and secretary as ex-officio members to select the course for 1909 and secure dates.

As this is to be the citizens' course this year there are 50 guarantors. The interest will be considerable stimulated when it is known that the course is to be among the very best that can be selected.

Charleroi in First Home Game Kerwallops West Virginians

LOCALS LANDED HARD

In the fourth inning yesterday he won the opening game of the base ball season in Charleroi. Nicely, who scored, had reached second by driving one out for two sacks. MacHale's youngsters were not satisfied with the lone tally however, and proceeded to drive the pill to all corners of the lot, and when the totaling time came up fourteen hits for twenty bases and eight runs was the result.

Griffith was sent out by MacHale and instructed to land a victory. He followed orders, and with the exception of one or two occasions the visitors never had a chance to see the home plate. Things looked pretty bad in the second when Raley, who is noted for hitting, drove one to the fence for two sacks but died on the cushion as the three following men went out in rotation. In the fifth with two down Bailes was safe on a hard drive to Nicely which was booted. Rothermel sent him around to third with a terrific slash for two sacks. Warren popped one to Morgan which ended the inning. With three on and one down in the sixth it took some good work to hold the West Virginians safe, but by causing Sloan to shoot one in the air to Harrell and fanning Haight, Griffith pulled himself out of the worst hole of the game. After scoring their first run things

Fifteen Days Given as Time Limit to Owners of Canines.

TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE

At the meeting of the city council at their meeting last night, taking action partly from the knowledge of the danger of an epidemic of hydrophobia, following the travel of a dog through the streets the other day, nipping other canines, an ordinance was rushed through all readings, after having been presented by Councilman W. H. Calvert. It is to the effect that all the canine inhabitants be muzzled within the next fifteen days, or the dogs shall be taken by the police, to be held for 48 hours, after which they may be killed, and the carcass cremated.

The ordinance provides that after dogs have been taken by the police they must be redeemed within the period of 48 hours, upon the payment of 50 cents. Any officer or citizen is empowered to "arrest" the canines, with the reward of the 50 cents to be paid them. The ordinance is in effect now, and it is stated that the hardware dealers have each ordered a supply of muzzles. The ordinance will be rigidly enforced by the police.

The Imperial Bottle factory after having been shut down in part for the past four weeks, has again resumed in full. The night employees are all ordered back to work tonight. Nine shops were out of operation during the shut down.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR CHILDREN'S PICNIC

Calvert Went Home To Muzzle His Dog

Got Excused From Council with the Aforesaid Avowed Purpose—Frew's Grouch.

The dog ordinance will meet with the approval of the most of the citizens of Charleroi, as well as the members of the council, some of whom have dogs themselves. Councilman Calvert, who presented the ordinance created some surprise when immediately upon the passage of the statute he asked to be excused from the remainder of the meeting. Members looked askance at one another, but Mr. Calvert grabbed his hat and started out, with the remark that he "was going home to muzzle his dog." Needless to say he was excused.

Councilman Frew was in favor of making the time limit for the muzzling of the animals one day. In support of his argument, he remarked that he had sort of a grouch at the canine population anyhow—they had awakened him at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and he hadn't been able to sleep since.

CHARLEROI MEN HELD

Junk Dealers Said to be From This Place, Charged With Larceny of Hose.

ARRESTED YESTERDAY

Harry Eask and Am. Freeman, who claim to live in Charleroi, were arrested at Fayette City yesterday charged with the larceny of a quantity of gum hose from the brick yard of Dinsmore Bros. at East Charleroi. Eask drove a horse hired from Raley's Hivery stable with a wagon belonging to another man and claimed to be a junk dealer. The hose was taken last Saturday, but the arrest was not made until yesterday.

The two men were taken before Squire Hamilton, where Freeman stated he was only riding with Eask when arrested, and he was released. Eask was held under bond for his appearance at court, and at this writing had not been able to secure bail. The hose was valued at $40.

QUINCE BANBURY OF U. OF P. WILL REFEREE AT FIELD MEET

List of Events Are Chosen At Meeting of Monessen and Charleroi Officials.

Quince Banbury, the prominent University of Pittsburgh athlete, will be the referee of the Charleroi-Monessen High School field meet to be held on Saturday. This was the substance of a telephone message received this morning by Prof. B. B. Smith of the local High School.

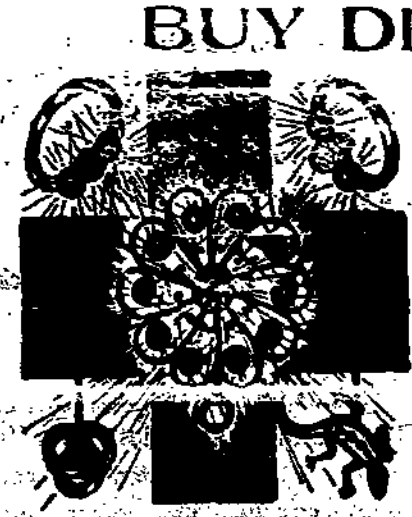

Last evening Prof. Cummings of Monessen and Prof. Smith of Charleroi arranged the order of the events to be run. There will be three races open to outsiders. The order of the events selected is as follows:

50 yard dash, shot put, 100 yard dash, standing broad jump, 1-2 mile relay, 100 yard open, running broad jump, 440 yard dash, 440 yard dash, open, pole vault, 1-2 mile run.

There will be three officials from each town. Those from Charleroi will be Geo. W. Might, J. B. Cunningham and Dr. Edwin McKay. Entries for the open events should be sent to Prof. Cummings at Monessen.

New Parole System.

One of the best and most practical laws for dealing with offenders against the laws of the State was passed by the last Legislature and signed by Governor Stuart yesterday. This is a system of parole and probation of prisoners. It provides that the county courts may have the power to suspend sentence and place on probation persons convicted of offenses other than those of a grave nature. In case of a fine the court may provide for its payment on installments by the person on probation. The measure was introduced by Senator E. L. Tustin of Philadelphia, and is known as the Tustin act.

When a prisoner is released on probation, he is under the supervision of a probation officer appointed by the court. The terms of probation are within a minimum and maximum sentence, and where the law fixes no minimum it shall be not less than one-fourth of the maximum. In sentencing prisoners to the penitentiary the court may impose a minimum and a maximum sentence and after the minimum has been served the Governor may parole the prisoner on petition of the board of inspectors of the penitentiary.

Parole officers will keep watch on such prisoners, and on the evidence of good behavior the board of inspectors may ask the Governor to pardon such paroled prisoners.

This law is patterned after the methods adopted by the juvenile courts. It has worked so well with juvenile offenders, that its application to adults has been recommended for some time. This system is doubly beneficial to the public. It lessens the expense of keeping prisoners, and provides a greater incentive for good behavior and amendment for past misdeeds.

A Just Sentence.

The Mercer county court made short shrift of the kidnapers of little Willie Whittle yesterday. Life imprisonment for the man and twenty-five years for the woman, with a fine that if worked out will add many more years, is the maximum sentence that was imposed by the court. The crime, as well as the trial, has been watched with local interest in every community from the fact that it is liable to be perpetrated anywhere and at any time, and it is one that appeals most strongly to the human emotions. From the time of the Comprehensives of the seventeenth century, so vividly described in Victor Hugo's "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," crimes against children have been regarded as a most heinous offense. The sentence is a righteous one, and it meets with general approval. One feature of the trial that is to be felicitated, is that there was no mawkish sympathy displayed for the criminals, as is often the case in sensational trials. A murder or a highwayman is often regarded as a hero, for the element of daring exhibited in committing the crime. Not so with the kidnaper. He is a sneak thief of the lowest type, and his deed is most cowardly and inhuman. The swift hand of justice that fell in the Whittle case will not be an encouragement for a repetition of the crime in Western Pennsylvania at least.

In a Different Light.

As a driver of men for those whose sole object is the pursuit of the almighty dollar, Supt. W. A. Cornelius of the big National Tube works at McKeesport found it necessary to run the plant Sundays; but as a member of the church of Divine love and humanity he does not find the necessity so pressing. From the worship of Mammon to the worship of God he sees things in a different light. As a result of this vision 1,200 employees for the first time in the history of the plant spent Sunday as a day of worship and rest with their families.

Supt. Cornelius' action is evidence that it is more avarice than necessity that prompts big industrial concerns to run their plants continuously. There is seldom any real necessity for it, and the killing pace of the present era is but artificial for the most part. It is not the important end of life to accumulate wealth nor to grind the faces of the needy in the process. The closing of the big McKeesport plant Sundays is significant not so much for the individual effect it has as for the evidence that the gospel of human love is spreading. This is but another instance of the great wave of righteousness that is sweeping the country from one ocean to the other.

Muzzle the Dogs.

Council acted wisely in enacting an ordinance requiring all dogs in the borough to be muzzled. By so doing every inhabitant of the borough is protected from the danger of hydrophobia that is a constant menace, particularly in hot weather. Only last week a strange dog ran amuck in the streets snapping and biting all the canines with which it came in contact. The dog was killed but if it was affected with hydrophobia, it most certainly infected others, which would be a terrible menace to the community. It was this that prompted council to take summary action. The dog may or may not have been mad, but it is not safe to take chances. By muzzling all the dogs now future accidents will be prevented.

COUNCIL OFFICIAL ASKS FOR PENALTY REDUCTION

The fire company presented a bill for expenses amounting to $17. This was ordered paid. The company also presented a budget of their expenses, and requested that an appropriation of $100 yearly be made. The finance committee was given charge of the matter. A bill of W. B. Pfeighardt for $142.83, for furnishings for the firemen's room was ordered paid. Chairman Frye of the ordinance committee reported that he had seen Solicitor D. M. McCloskey concerning the cost of the revising of the borough ordinances, and stated that he had said it would require an expenditure of between $500 and $700. The matter was held over for the present, and the ordinance committee instructed to continue their work along the matter, and if possible see if a revision could not be made at a cheaper rate.

The accounts and claims committee presented a written report concerning the claim of damages of Mrs. Harvey Osborne. In this it was stated that all the damage which had been caused by the borough's fill near the property in question could be remedied by an expenditure of $25. This report was accepted, and the amount will be paid Mrs. Osborne.

The clerk reported that he had made an inspection of the fire plugs and found nearly a dozen in bad shape. He was instructed to make a request to the Water company to fix them. A grade ordinance for sidewalks for the west side of Lincoln avenue passed second reading. It was reported that on account of a pole of the Pittsburgh Railways company holding the high tension wire on Lincoln avenue, bordering on her property, Mrs. Elizabeth McDonough had refused to lay her sidewalk. The company will be given 15 days' notice to move the pole, under the directions of the street committee.

Following the transaction of the business on the table, council adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, Etc., Used as a Simple Wash

It really seems strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema, when it is now no longer a secret that oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol, glycerine, etc., makes a wash that is bound to cure.

Old, obstinate cases, it is true, cannot be cured in a few days, but there is absolutely no sufferer from eczema who ever used this simple wash and did not find immediately that wonderfully soothing, calm, cool sensation that comes when the itch is taken away. Instantly upon applying a few drops of the wash the remedy takes effect, the itch is allayed. There is no need of experiment—the patient knows at once.

Instead of trying to compound the oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., in the right proportions ourselves we are using a prescription which is universally found the most effective. It is known as the D. D. D. Prescription, or Oil of Wintergreen Compound. It is made by the D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, and our long experience with this remedy has given us great confidence in its merits.

FEEBLE OLD LADY

Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewisburg, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

THE SMART DRUMMER

There Was Something Coming to Him, and He Got It.

"Gentlemen," said the drummer of Druggists' sundries as he looked around on the half dozen men who were asking him for the latest stock of bellows. "I have felt about 400 different feelings in my life, and the balziest one of all was the feeling that I had something coming to me and would get it if I stayed on the road long enough."

"And have you got it?" was asked.

"I have. I got it coming into Chicago. I was very comfortable in my Pullman when a young man came along and told me a pitiful story and wanted me to buy his diamond ring. The game is older than the hills, and I was on in a minute—bought story and bogus diamond; willing to sell me a $200 ring for $20. I asked him where the green spot was in my eye, and while I was plumping myself the man in the other part of the section pulled out three tens and pocketed the ring. Did I look down upon him with pity and contempt? Did I smile? Did I grin? Did I ask him where his guardian was? Oh, yes—oh, yes, and he spoke up and claimed that the stones were diamonds and the ring well worth 200 plunks. It nettled me to see the ass so cocksure and to hear him say that of course I was no judge of diamonds, and I put up $20 that he'd been done for. The conductor held the money, and when we got into town we made for a jewelry store. We took in four of 'em before I laid down. Same story in each place—ring worth $200."

"And you lost your $20?"

"Slick as slick."

"And there was a profit in it?"

"Of course, you cannot. Seller and buyer were confidence men, and they probably worked the scheme six days a week. If I'd got ready to buy, some excuse would have been made to head me off. Yes, gentlemen, I had something coming to me, and I got it, and I feel relieved."—Baltimore American.

EQUATORIAL AFRICA.

How Hunters Dress Where There Is No Dawn and No Dusk.

We wore khaki for daytime and warm clothes for night when sitting around the camp, as after the sun goes down a great chill immediately settles down that makes winter clothing and a good big fire most essential.

During the daytime we always wore pith helmets, although sometimes early in the morning and late in the afternoon, when the sun is not at its maximum, a dome-topped felt hat may be substituted. It is far more comfortable than the helmet.

As additional protection we wore sun pads which covered the spine. These are merely heavy quilted strips that reach from the collar to below the shoulders, as we were advised that the effect of the sun was just as deadly at this point as on the head. I do not know what maximum the thermometer would reach in the sun, as I was afraid to leave it exposed when it got higher than a little above 150 degrees, as beyond that point there was great danger of breaking it. In the shade the temperature would be usually from 85 to 100 degrees, but there was always a breeze blowing, and the dryness of the air cooled one off quite rapidly as soon as one got out of the sun. It was always cold in the morning when we started out at the first peep of light, and we were usually shivering for a few minutes prior to the sun's appearance. Day does not mean in equatorial Africa, but it bursts! It is dark one minute and full sunlight the next, and the reverse occurs in the evening, for the sun goes down and night comes on as if a curtain had suddenly been drawn down over the west, and the chill of night begins instantly.—Perry C. Madeira in Metropolitan Magazine.

"A Sound Box."

Take an ordinary rubber band and stretch it between the thumb and forefinger of your left hand. If you pick it with the fingers of the right hand and let go suddenly it will make a sound which you can hear distinctly enough yourself, but which will not be audible to any one a few feet away. But if you were to fasten the elastic with a pin at each end, to an empty wooden box, only not so as to touch the wood, and then twang it the sound would be much louder than before. That box is the sound box or sound board, and all stringed instruments have one in some shape or other.—St. Nicholas.

Pride.

"Arry and his best girl were discussing recent events in the High Street, Bethnal Green."

"Arry—Did you read the list of presents Ann Smith had for her wedding?"
"Arry—Yes, I did. The idea for such as them 'avin' the wedding put in the paper! They might be bloomin' haris-roccats."

"Arry—Fancy her mother giving her such a 'andsome present as a 'orse and trap! 'Arry—Garn! It was a clothes'orse and a mouse trap. I've seed 'em. That's their bloomin' pride!"—London Scraps.

A Thoughtful Boy.

"Anxious Mother—Johnny, is it possible that you, as sick as you claim to be, have eaten that whole rubber pie?"
Johnny—Yes, mamma. You know the doctor said my system needed thinning, and I thought I'd better take a good dose of it before I got any worse."—Chicago News.

The Answer.

"Widow" and "widow" are very much alike.
"Well, and what's the answer?"
"When I get near either I always look out!"—Boston Transcript.

TALK DELAYS TARIFF BILL

Review of Business Conditions Shows Uncertainty as to Passage of Measure Is Obstacle to Recovery

ATTACKS FROM WESTENERS

Senator Cummins Indulges in Radical Language and Threatens Other Speeches—Vote on Lead Amendment Shows Passage of Bill Before July Is Possible.

There is every reason for believing that with the prompt enactment of a new tariff bill there would at once follow a full restoration of normal industrial and mercantile activity. One of the country's big commercial agencies in its review of the situation as presented during the week ending Saturday, May 8, states positively and categorically that tariff revision is literally the last obstacle to the accomplishing of such a condition.

In support of this optimistic claim significant figures are quoted: Bank clearings outside of New York are 15.9 per cent. better than they were during the same period last year and 24.5 per cent. better than in 1908, and in New York they are 24.1 per cent. larger than in 1908 and 13 per cent. larger than in 1905. Railroad earnings for April show a gain of 10.5 per cent. over 1908, and only 10.5 per cent. decrease, as compared with the banner year, 1907. Immigration is 212,600 larger than last year. Imports are much greater than they were in 1908 and nearly equal to those of 1907. In the iron and steel trade there is a distinct gain both in orders and in prices, and in copper there is a hardening tendency. New works of construction are going rapidly forward and in almost all other fields favorable developments are reported.

Meanwhile the effect of the long wait on the completion of the new tariff bill and its submission for the signature of the President is to produce uncertainty and a suspension of activity in the lines of trade which are the most affected by the pending legislation. High or low duties make high or low prices, and until it is known what the duties shall be, it is obviously out of the question to place large orders. It is evident, however, that no matter what the duties may be, the termination of the tariff uncertainty will release a vast pent-up volume of trade and complete the commercial and industrial revival. This is a cheerful prospect and it should afford corresponding encouragement to waiting capital and anxious labor. It is satisfying to feel convinced that, whatever the lawmakers may do, the return of prosperity is certain and cannot be long checked.

At the same time, however, it is somewhat irritating that so much valuable time should be lost as there was, apparently, in the United States Senate during the same week covered by the commercial agency review referred to. Those Senators known as the "insurgents" were very much in evidence and they assailed Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, chairman of the Senate finance committee, with innumerable questions and propositions, and talked, talked, talked. The principal, or rather the longest speaker, was Senator Dilliver of Iowa, a well-known citizen, but one who has been considerable of a "reactionist" of late. He had not sooner finished a two days' speech than his colleague, Senator Cummins of Iowa, took the floor and reiterated what Senator Dilliver had declared was the demand of the people for a revision of the tariff downward. Without mincing of words: Mr. Cummins denounced what he declared were commercial developments tending toward trusts and monopolies, and issued the warning that unless legislation of a corrective character is granted by Congress and a brake placed upon the trusts "the common people and the lamp posts" will remain after the alleged thrairdom of industrial slavery has disappeared.

It is reported that Senator Cummins intends to make five or six speeches during the consideration of the tariff bill. If they are to be modeled after this particular one the question naturally presents itself how far will they go toward bringing about the era of prosperity forecasted for so many months past and now, according to the experienced business reviewers, halting tiptoe on the threshold of today?

With a view to demonstrating his Republicanism Senator Cummins made this explanation: "I do not believe in lowering the duties to a point that will enable foreign producers to take the home market from our producers." But as a radical tariff revisionist he insisted that the question of "reasonable profit" has confused and complicated an already embarrassing situation and is being used as a cloak to hide excessive and prohibitive rates.

As Senator Cummins followed Senator Dilliver, so Senator Clapp of Minnesota walked in the footsteps of the senior senator from his state, Knute Nelson. Senator Clapp joined the other "insurgents" in warning Senator Aldrich that unless the tariff reductions of duties the tariff would be revised by the enemies of protection two years hence.

Instead of being worried by these increasing general attacks upon the tariff bill his committee has reported.

Senator Aldrich and Senator Dilliver of Pennsylvania, also a member of the finance committee and one of Senator Aldrich's strongest and most capable lieutenants in this tariff revision campaign, and the other senators who are taking leading parts are taking great consolation from the attacks. They say that the more general and violent the attacks of the western members become, the more frightened some of the "insurgents" will become. There are few of the so-called radical "insurgents" who are not anxious to protect one or more industries in which their states are interested. If there should be a general lowering of the duties the schedules in which they are interested would have to fall with the others.

After a week given up almost entirely to talk a vote was had on Friday, May 7, on the lead amendment calling for a protective tariff on that metal of 1 1/2 cents per pound. It carried by a vote of 53 to 19. It was a victory for Senator Aldrich, although upon an insignificant matter, and gave him and his supporters much satisfaction. It was a vote that showed just what the real situation is, and following its announcement Senator Aldrich stated that he would now ask to have the schedules taken up in their alphabetical order, and he expressed the hope that the bill would be out of the way before the end of June. Before that he had doubted whether Congress would rise before some time in August.

The senators who have been classed as "insurgents" are: Dilliver and Cummins, Iowa; Nelson and Clapp, Minnesota; Bristow and Curtis, Kansas; Brown and Burkett, Nebraska; Crawford, South Dakota; Johnson, North Dakota, and La Follette, Wisconsin.

What They Make Judges Out Of.

Justice David Brewer of the United States supreme court, during an address before the students of law at the University of Pennsylvania, told them one of the experiences of his judicial career at his own expense.

"It happened I was sitting at one time on a number of cases in which a good friend of mine was interested as counsel, and it also happened that in many of them my decisions were rendered against my friend's clients. One day after the completion of such a case we sat together talking, when a very beautiful young man from the great districts came in to see me bearing a card of introduction to obtain my advice upon the choice of a profession. 'What do you think you want to do?' I asked him. 'I kind of thought I'd better study law,' he replied, 'but that I want to very much, but because I guess I'd like to be a judge. They make judges out of lawyers, don't they?' he asked, somewhat hesitatingly. 'Once in awhile,' my legal friend replied before I could answer. 'Once in awhile they do, but not often.'"—Philadelphia Press.

He Wasn't Fooled.

A once famous publisher was a man well acquainted with general literature, and it was often said of him that he never failed to name the author of any given passage. A would-be wit, thinking to have a little fun at this man's expense, told his friends at a dinner party before the said publisher's arrival that he had himself written some verses in imitation of Southey and that he intended to puzzle old F. with the question of their authorship.

Accordingly later in the evening the wit quoted his lines, and, turning to old F., he said, "I am sure that you know Southey from their style, but I cannot remember where they occur. Of course you can tell us."

"I cannot say I remember them," replied Mr. F., "but there are only two periods in Southey's life when he could have written them."

"When were those?" asked the joker, with a wink at his friends.

"Either in his infancy or his dotage," was the quiet reply.

Spanish Railroad Trains.

The Spanish train averages possibly twenty miles an hour—to allow one to make time exposures of the scenery perhaps. It makes frequent and long waits. At every station the guards run up and down, shouting the name of the town and the number of minutes for each stop. At every station also the two military guards who accompany each train descend and walk around the cars, looking to see that no robbers are concealed. As there is at least one stop an hour these guards get some exercise before the day is over. They say this custom was adopted to drive away any brigands who might be concealed in or under the train and that it has been successful. These military guards are very fine looking men and wear an impressive uniform. We saw more than one black-eyed senorita look approvingly after them as they passed by.—Ontario Magazine.

Getting at the Truth.

At twenty three he thought fate was making a special effort to keep him down.

At thirty-five he thought he might have done great things if his wife had not been such a handicap.

At forty he believed he would have been a great man if his children had not made it necessary for him to cling to the sure things.

At fifty he was positive that there was a conspiracy against him on the part of his fellow men.

At sixty he had felt that if he could have been thirty-five again nothing could have stopped him.

At seventy he began to believe that he had failed because of a lack of courage and inability to make the most of his opportunities.

At eighty he was almost sure of it.

were pretty easy for the locals and one or more were added in each inning.

The fifth was the worst, as eight men faced Haight, four of them crossing. Urben looked them over for free transportation and Griffith sacrificed. Morgan singled and Urben took third, scoring on an error by Warren. Harrel followed with a single scoring. Morgan and Nally walked, both moving upon a sacrifice by Elliott. Two runs came over when Nicely picked off his third hit of the afternoon.

Two singles and an infield out were responsible for a mark in the sixth and a tripple by Elliott and a single by Nicely counted on in seventh and the eighth run came on a double by Brockman and single by Urben.

Manager MacHale and Umpire Schmink had a little run-in over a decision at second and as a result MacHale was banished from the grounds. Score:

MacHale has 14 men on the list and today's game will see some new faces in the lineup as he wishes to give all a fair trial before handing out any releases.

Plans Big Parade.

The committee in charge of the union evangelistic meetings at Monongahela is planning for a big parade there Thursday evening. It is the intention to make it one of the biggest religious demonstrations ever held in the town. The meetings under the direction of the evangelists, Messrs. Davis and Mills, have been eminently successful, and the religious awakening in that community was never so great.

Republican Candidate for Recorder Makes Vigorous Canvass in River District.

Alex D. Young, candidate for the Republican nomination for recorder of Washington county, was in town today, making a canvass among the voters of this section. Mr. Young, who has been deputy recorder through several administrations, bases his claim for the nomination on his qualifications and capability to fill the office. His long service has made him widely known throughout the county and his uniform courteous treatment of the patrons of the office has won him many friends in all parts of the county.

While he has never been identified with fractional politics Mr. Young has always been a regular Republican and a strict adherent of the party. His party regularity, his faithfulness as an official, and his record as deputy recorder are factors which are recognized by the voters.

No Other Candidate for Recorder So Well Equipped as Alex. D. Young

ALEX. D. YOUNG

Alex. D. Young, candidate for the Republican nomination for Recorder of Washington county, is too well known to need formal introduction. His long service in the Recorder's office as deputy has brought him into close touch with the public and the uniformly courteous treatment accorded patrons of the office during his term of service has made him many substantial friends who are eager to rally to his support in the contest to be settled at the June primaries. In point of qualifications no other candidate is so well equipped. Not another man in Washington county so well understands how to conduct the business of the office and there is no more deserving candidate. While at no time in his career has Mr. Young been identified with factional politics, he has at all times since attaining his majority been a strict adherent to the principles of the party of his choice.

On his record as deputy recorder, established by many years of faithful service and on his record for party regularity Mr. Young solicits the support of Washington county Republicans.
